

PARENTAL CONSENT FORM

At Mancuso Salon, we take great pride in our ability to provide a thorough consultation before beginning any chemical services. Even though we offer a baseline price and do our best to estimate charges and time, there are situations when things unseen may cause additional costs or additional time. In order to avoid confusion and /or sticker shock, we strongly encourage parents to be present during the consultation process and ask questions about the possibility of additional charges for any service being done on their children before they are started and express and work through any budget concerns before hand with the stylist and their child.
